

As the Wrench Turns

>>> Special Supplement <<<

CPMS 4.0 - Training!

Work Shop 2005

Our annual CPMS Work Shop will be held this year in Cincinnati, Ohio. We urge everyone to attend, or schedule an onsite training visit to your plant, or both! There is a lot to learn in CPMS 4.0 although you will find that although the "look and feel" have changed a lot, the functionality is still similar to the current version.

Work Shop details are as follows:

Date: April 26-27
Time: 8:00 am - 4:00 pm

Place: Hampton Inn
Cincinnati Airport North
Hebron, KY 41048
Tel: 859 689-1960

Shuttle bus to/from the airport
Group room rate is: $69
Contact: Shondell

Overview

The normal format at our CPMS Work Shop is to review the current system, have a number of question and answer sessions, and then talk about the upcoming version. It will be different this year.

Because there is so much material to cover in CPMS 4.0, the entire two days will be devoted to learning all of the new functions and features in the new CPMS.

We encourage attendees to send us a copy of their CPMS data ahead of time so we can provide some meaningful examples and provide answers to plant specific questions.

We also encourage all of our users to locate a plant layout diagram in order to take advantage of the new CPMS main menu. As you have probably seen in our recent newsletters and website, you can now locate all plant equipment by just pointing at it. And, the Hot Spots display dynamically highlights and tracks up to 25 of your most troublesome machines.

We guarantee you will be impressed and the best part is the price. As we mentioned in our recent email, the upgrade price is $295 per plant but it is included in the Work Shop price of $245. This shows you the importance we place on proper training. Also, for those who cannot make it to the Work Shop, we will include the upgrade price in our daily on-site consulting rate.

Dennis Fleming
IISCO

2337 Hemlock Farms
Hawley, PA 18428
Tel.: 570 775-7593
Fax: 570 775-9797
Cell: 570 351-5290
E-mail: iisco@ptd.net
www.TheBestCMMS.com